The Word on The Street Clients of The Harrison Team Rave About Professionalism, Service

San Francisco, CA – August 27, 2007 – When you're a team of ultra real estate agents like The Harrison Team, a top producing duo at Pacific Union GMAC Real Estate's Presidio office, expectations are high. Linda Harrison and Ellen Anderson are all about exceeding these standards by consistently delivering personalized, knowledgeable and effective service to their clients.

"The Harrison Team goal is to create clients for life," said Harrison, who is very active in the real estate community sitting on the boards of the San Francisco and California Associations of REALTORS®. "The way we will accomplish this is to keep doing what we are doing, which is advocating on our clients' behalf and helping them build wealth through strategic real estate transactions."

From what clients say about working with The Harrison Team, they are well on the way to achieving their objective.

"Purchasing a multi-unit building in San Francisco can be daunting, but for a first-time homebuyer, it can be downright scary. At least that was my feeling prior to meeting Linda," said Greg Scallon, senior product manager, Apple Computer. "Once we began working together, Linda displayed a level of professionalism and knowledge that put my mind at ease and let me know that I had a partner I could rely on every step of the way. Her amazing attitude, breadth of knowledge of the intricacies of San Francisco real estate and her professionalism every step of the way were nothing but impressive."

The Harrison Team takes service to the zenith. In addition to their outstanding negotiation skills and ability to translate clients' wishes into finding the right home for them, Harrison and Anderson help on move-in day and provide valuable resources for home-related services. They are also available when the time comes to upsize or add to their property investments, both in the Bay Area and abroad.

"We were the type of clients that would try any REALTOR'S® patience since we were moving from Boston to San Francisco. We interviewed four top producing real estate agents over the phone and settled on Linda Harrison. From the very beginning, we were delighted with our choice," said Joyce Gavenda, CFO, Summit Strategies. “She is a strategist. Throughout the negotiations, Linda played a critical advisory role. She suggested a strong series of strategic moves that helped us get the best price possible. When we got frustrated, she held the deal together with advice and humor, and reminded us of the goal.

Linda did not stop once we finalized the deal. Being new to the area, we relied on her for names of locksmiths, insurance agents, doctors and more. She will even be reviewing our plans for a new kitchen, helping us spend our money the right way for resale purposes.”

Other agents also agree with the level of professionalism and depth of knowledge The Harrison Team brings to the negotiating table.

“You two are truly a class act, and our transaction was my favorite of the year. I hope we’ll have the chance to do at least one deal this year,” said John Beeney, Paragon Real Estate Group.

As one client stated so aptly “in the real estate battlefield it’s best to have you on our side.”
